[For the Daily Indiana State Sentinel] The Temperance Question-The Old and the New Law.

MR. EDITOR:-In answer to numerous, letters and to sum not less than five nor more than fifty dollars." correct prevalent misapprehensions, I propose furnishing you a brief review of the Old and the New Law on the subject of temperance. But before doing so, allow me are conversant with its practical operations. to be effione hundred thousand persons petitioned for temperance laws. Of these, one-eighth were ladies; one-twentieth minors; and about one-fourth prayed for the passage of a law similar to that of Maine. Many of the petitions asked the repeal of all license laws. By reference to the petitions, it will be seen, that in ne instance did a majority of the voters of any county in the State ask the passage of a law similar to the "Maine Law." Power any law. Some remonstrated against any change. Yet, no topic of legislation occupied so much of the attention of the Legislature. No less than eight bills re-leaving to the liquor traffic were introduced in the Sentention of the Legislature. No less than eight bills re-leaving a candidate to represent the liquor traffic were introduced in the Sentention of the Legislature. No less than eight bills re-order, and referred to the appropriate committee. More suits of the subject, than in any other question of legislation. The most distinctions were entertained by Senators and Representatives.

The Democratic Congressional Convention—Sixth District.

Under the old law, a person, to be amenable to its penalties, must be licensed. The new makes him liable, whether licensed or not. The old law provides a penalty against giving or selling "spirituous" liquors only, which our Supreme Court have decided does not include wine. Under the new law, the major term "intoxicating" being used, the whole class of liquors, producing mittee counts of N. Belton of Marion. Also, Miller of the self-new Marion. ting" being used, the whole class of liquors, producing drunkenness, is comprehended. The old law fixes the minimum penalty at two, and the maxmium at ten dollars. The new law places them at five and fifty dollars. The old law, under a common law rule of evidence, con- Dr. E. W. H. Ellis, offered the following resolution subject of temperance. But before doing so, allow me to run rapidly over the progress of some of the measures touching the traffic in intoxicating liquors, through the two branches of the last Legislature, in refutation of a charge that the subject did not receive the consideration its merits demanded of that body. I shall mention facts, only, and leave inferences to others.

Impressed with the importance of the subject, and respecting the growing interest in it, manifested throughout the State, at the opening of the late session of the General Assembly, a distinct temperance committee, composed of the raost devoted friends of stringent measures in the premises, was constituted in each House. To these committees all petitions and resolutions concerning "temperance," were referred. Near one hundred thousand persons petitioned for temperance laws. Of these, one-eighth were ladies; one-twentieth leaves and the trial progresses as under the old law. Macrotyu;
Messrs. S. A. Wenver & Co.,—Grantlemen: In relation to my wife, I would say that from childhood she has been afflicted with a flumor. About twenty years since it appeared in a very distressing form of Erysipalas, at first in a spot of a bright cherry color on the side of the face, accompanied with a painful sensation, similar to that produced by fire. From this point it spread over the whole hecame so swollen that for several days she was entirely BLIND, and so desfigured that her most linimate acquammances do not recognize her. She had been in this situation three times in the last five years. Its effects sometimes appeared in small cracks in the skin, commencing back of the ears, thence extending over the side of the bead. So sore and painful were they, that at nigle it was impossible for her to allow them to touch the pillow. The action of the seasons and run down the sides of the neck, and scrid was it, that when it came in commet with the skin, the effect was it, that when it came in commet with the skin, the effect was it, that when it came in commet with the skin, the effect was it, that when it came in commet with the skin, the effect was it, that when it came in commet with the skin, the effect was it, that when it came in commet with the skin, the effect was it, that when it
